In the style of TEDx, the TRAILSNext™ Series brings you cutting edge information from leading experts in the trails world on today’s hottest trail topics. These high energy 18-minute presentations were recorded to be made available to folks who were unable to attend this year’s International Trails Symposium.

Each month we will be featuring one of these talks in our eNews, and you can purchase the entire series on our website at this link.

This month we are sharing with you “Managing High-Use Trails: Why Trail Stewards are a Necessity in Creating Safe, Sustainable Trails” by presenter Hank Osborn, with the New York-New Jersey Trail Conference.

Learn how trail steward and trail-building programs have worked to make the public better informed, more responsible trails users while protecting the resource. Because when trails are used responsibly, they protect both the people who use them and the environment that surrounds them.
